The bright cheerful family circle that began December 30, 1899, when James Divens and Miss Elsie Upp were married and was given promise of additional sunshine and cheer on the 31st of October 1900, when a son was added to the circle passed under the shadow of great grief and disappointment on Friday of last week when the little son passed away. But in their sorrow the parents have the consolation of knowing that all through its brief life which was attended with frailty, they nursed and cared for it with all the tenderness and increasing vigilance that parental love could devise or suggest, and they are further comforted with the assurance that He that took little children in his arms while on earth and said, "Suffer little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not," has taken their beloved child, Norman Leslie, unto Himself. And while the home will be lonely without him, and the hearts of these parents will be filled with sadness, faith, if properly exercised, will enable them to realize that the happy spirit of their darling is now among the darling white-robed company that the Revelator saw and of which he said: "They are now before the throne of God, and serve Him day and night in His temple. They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more, neither shall the sun light on them any more, nor any heat, for the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters, and God shall wipe away the tears from their eyes."

In curing an ailment of any kind, I never fail to remove all Reflex Complications or Associate Diseases. In the above long list most of the ills named are but the natural result of some deep-seated, chronic disease. They are none the less serious, but often, in fact, more distressing than the original ailment that gives rise to them. With the cure of the original malady, these reflex diseases will disappear completely and permanently. No other one organ of the body leaves such a long train of ills as does the Rectum in Disease. It is the most delicate, least understood and most abused and neglected of all the organs. The McClellan System of Painless Treatment and Medication for the Cure of Rectal Diseases surpasses all others. No chloroform, no cutting or crushing, no detention from business. I have cured more cases of Piles, Fistula, Rectal Ulcer, etc., than any physician in the Middle West, and have yet to record my first failure. I am successful in complicated cases because all of my energies and my whole time are concentrated on
